Judge Thayer Is Mayor of Sierra Madre

New Member of Council Is Chosen President at Monday Meeting

Committee Appointments Are Made at Adjourned Session

As a result of the organization meeting of the city council Monday night, Judge Gilbert Thayer is the new mayor of Sierra Madre. His election was unanimous, all councilmen agreeing upon him as head of the board.

Upon taking over the duties of his office, Mayor Thayer announced the following committee appointments:

Finance — Mayor Thayer, Col. Herman Hall and Henry Isaacs. Streets and Police — Mr. Isaacs, Col. Hall and Al Myers. Ordinance — Al Myers, J. Belohlavek and Mr. Isaacs. Sanitation — J. Belohlavek, Col. Hall and Mr. Isaacs.

Councilmen Belohlavek, Hall and Isaacs are the veteran members of the board, while Mr. Thayer and Mr. Myers are the new members.

Mayor Thayer's first official signature was affixed to a resolution asking permission of the city of Arcadia to include a portion of its territory in the road district for the improvement of Sierra Madre Avenue.

New Gospel Team Organized When Young Folks Meet

Many of the young folks from the Christian Endeavor of Bethany Church are interested in the new Gospel Team, which was organized recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Ladd, 258 Mariposa Avenue.

First plans for the Gospel Team, which is to conduct meetings in and around Pasadena, were laid at the Ladd home last Friday when twenty of the C. E. members from Sierra Madre and Pasadena, who have been attending the Rimmer evangelistic meetings at the Raymond theatre, were present.

Last night the group met again at the home of Carl Sunstrom in Pasadena to further discuss the matter. Mr. Sunstrom is the president of the C. E. organization and is in charge of the team.

At the Ladd home Friday evening, games and refreshments followed the business. Music was furnished by the Misses Marie Dorman, Margaret Bundy, Harry Barrington and Paul Ladd. Lucile and Paul Ladd were hostess and host for the occasion.

Change Date Of Rasbach-Thayer Event

May 3 Is Evening for Joint Program Given for Woman's Club

The Date of the Thayer-Rasbach program to be given for the benefit of the Woman's Club has been changed from Tuesday evening May 1, until Thursday, May 3rd, it was announced today by Mrs. Fletcher White, president of the club, who is in charge of the arrangements.

Donald Thayer, internationally known as a concert singer of rare attainment, will make his debut in his home town on that evening. At the conclusion of several years study under great masters abroad, Mr. Thayer filled a number of concert engagements in the east, but has not yet made an appearance on the west coast. Later in the season he will give a series of concerts in the larger coast cities, but to Sierra Madre comes the opportunity of hearing him first.

Mr. Rasbach will play his accompaniments, and will be heard in piano selections of his own composition.

While the proceeds of the entertainment will go to the Woman's Club for use in charity work, the singer is especially honoring his mother, while the artist-composer is donating his talents in compliment to his wife.

Campbell Awarded Important Committee Appointment

J. M. Campbell, president of the Sierra Madre chamber of commerce and recently appointed a director on the board of the San Gabriel Valley Development Association, has been named one of five members of the association road committee.

Among the important projects occupying the attention of the association are the repaving of the Valley Boulevard from Bassett to Pomona; speeding of the Arrow Highway; widening of the Foot-hill Boulevard; extension of Baldwin Avenue to Whittier; Rosemead Boulevard; the development of the San Gabriel Canyon, and many other projects aimed to develop the San Gabriel Valley.

Among the more ambitious plans of the association is the opening of the great mountain areas to be reached through near-by canyons, San Gabriel Canyon, Fish Canyon, Santa Anita, and others. Federal and state aid will be sought in carrying out this program and it is believed that when the plans are formulated and the time ripe, road projects can be put through that will make all these areas accessible to their farthest limits.

Evans Tells Kiwanis of Legislature

State Senator Discusses Some of the Problems of the State

State Senator H. J. Evans of Monrovia was the speaker at the Kiwanis luncheon on Tuesday, and gave the club members some side-lights on the things a member of the legislature comes across. He said he did not especially care to be introduced as "senator," preferring to be regarded as a director in a business of which all are part owners. After telling some amusing incidents of the legislative session, he turned to a more serious side of state business in his visit to the Folsom state prison.

How to save the prisoners from effects of the life of enforced idleness which he found there was one of the things which Senator Evans regarded as vitally important. He said the wardens of both state prisons agreed with him that the prisoners should be regularly employed at some gainful occupation. Thus he believed they could pay the state for their own keep, and also receive a share of the earnings so that they would have funds to tide them over the difficult period immediately following their return to civil life.

Senator Evans reviewed the fight over the tax laws and the problem of assessing "foreign" securities equitably. He was one of the members who opposed the administration measure, and was consequently gratified when the supreme court declared it unconstitutional. In Los Angeles county he believed the owners of such securities could depend on the fair attitude of Assessor Hopkins who had always favored minimum assessments to avoid double taxation of this class of property.

President Webster called upon Bob Radford of Monrovia, former lieutenant governor, to welcome two new members, Louis Dietz and Gus Rihard. Mr. Radford's brief address was greatly enjoyed, both by new and old members, as briefly stating the aims and ideals of Kiwanis.

Former Residents Call on Boyhood Chums Wednesday

Fred Hilton of Huntington Park and Chester Huston of Brea were calling on Sierra Madre friends Wednesday afternoon and renewing old memories of boyhood days. Mr. Hilton, who has just disposed of a super-service station in Huntington Park, formerly resided at the southeast corner of Central and Mountain Trail Avenues, where his father owned a ranch of several acres. Mr. Huston is best remembered for his connection with the mountain trails and packing business. His brother, Foster Huston, was at one time proprietor of Orchard Camp in the prosperous days of the old Mount Wilson Trail.

East Central Ave. Protests Improvement

Widening of Street From Baldwin to Cemetery Is Opposed

Residence Property Will Be Ruined, Contention of Owners

Residents of East Central are voicing a protest against the widening of that street, a part of the improvement program recently approved by the city council. At the request of practically all of the residents east of Baldwin Avenue, Mrs. Jessica Wright is preparing a petition to be circulated among the property owners who have land frontage on Central, east of Baldwin.

According to Mrs. Wright, the property owners are alarmed over the possibility of the proposed improvement because of the fact that the fifteen feet extra added to the street width would eliminate a large portion of the front yards. In some cases the residences would stand practically at the edge of walk, it is asserted.

According to plans of the preliminary survey, which is being made at the expense of the county, Central Avenue is to be widened to 80 feet through this city. At the present time the street is 80 feet wide from Baldwin west to Sierra Madre Avenue, but from Baldwin east to a point near the cemetery is 65 feet, only, and narrows there to 50 feet, which is the width eastward to Santa Anita Drive.

The improvement of the street, in conjunction with the opening of Central Avenue west to Hunting Drive, has been generally conceded to be of great benefit to Sierra Madre, and the local city council has been working with officials of Pasadena and Arcadia for the completion of the work. It is the belief at the present time that the work will be ordered under the provisions of the Mattoon Act.

East Central residents are not opposed to the extension and improvement of the street. In fact, Mrs. Wright and others have given support to the effort to secure the completion of the project, but they feel that it is not necessary to widen the street to more than sixty-five feet at this time. Not only would the expense be great, but many fine trees would have to be removed, thereby decreasing the value of the property for residential purposes, is the contention of the petitioners.

Scout Cabin To Be Built By Troop 1

Boys to Lay Pipe for Water On Auburn Avenue Location

Preliminary steps toward the building of a log cabin for Boy Scout and Camp Fire Girls' meetings, will be started Saturday, when a group of boys, under the supervision of Arthur Evans, Scoutmaster, will lay pipes for water. Shrubs and trees will be planted as soon as the water is connected and the building will commence when a sufficient amount of money is raised.

The building will not take a large sum, as it will be a rough structure of logs, such as the Scouts in many of the neighboring communities have built, and the boys will do much of the work themselves.

Use of the lots on Auburn was given to the organizations some time ago, and early in the season wild flower seeds were planted by the girls, but the seeds were washed out during a heavy rain.

The Scouts and Camp Fire Girls will hold meetings in the hut, and will also have their social affairs there. Some time ago the mothers decided to give a series of dinners for the boys, and there will be held in the Scout headquarters.

F. H. Hartman, senior member of the firm of Hartman & Son, is taking an enforced vacation from the drug store under the doctor's orders that he take a rest. R. R. Hartman is being assisted in the store part of the time by H. G. Tinsley of Monrovia.

White King Four Secured for Two-Day Conference

The White King Quartet, of radio fame, has been secured by members of Bethany Church as a part of the program for the annual Bible conference, which will be held May 1 and 2. The conference, which is one of the biggest church events of the year, is held under the auspices of the Missionary Society, and will commence at 10:30 each morning.

Mrs. F. D. R. Moote and Mrs. R. S. Jensen are in charge of the program, details of which will be announced next week. The White King Quartet will sing Tuesday evening at 7:45, preceding the speaker, and is sure to draw a large audience, as the singers are widely known.

Meetings will be held thruout the day and evening, with luncheon served free at noon. A number of fine speakers have been secured, and there will be special music at most of the meetings.

Supt. Sexson Of Pasadena To Talk Here

Program Sponsored by Local Masons for Educational Week

Dr. John A. Sexson, superintendent of schools in Pasadena, has been secured as the speaker for the ninth annual observance of public schools week in Sierra Madre, next Wednesday night. Arrangements for the meeting are being made by Sierra Madre Lodge No. 408, F. & A. M., and the co-operation of school officials and of other organizations will help to make it a success. The meeting will be held in the Woman's Club House.

Those who have heard Dr. Sexson since he came to Pasadena to assume his new position the first of the year, pronounce him an able and delightful speaker. Entertainment numbers will help to round out an enjoyable program. Arrangements are in the hands of R. R. Hartman, chairman of the committee, and C. L. Twycross, master of the lodge.

Public schools week has become a statewide observance in California. It has also been copied by other states. Its chief purpose is to create in all our people an added interest in all that pertains to the public schools. The whole world is in reality "going to school today." It is desirable, not merely, but essential that our people know intimately of the work which we have set out to accomplish thru education. Those who support the school should know whether the results we secure justify the investment we are making.

We hear much these days about the high cost of education. There can be no doubt that, reckoned in terms of dollars and cents, the expenditure for public education in the United States is running into huge sums. It is the purpose of the programs offered during public schools week to set before Mr. and Mrs. Taxpayer many facts concerning the school and about which most of us are unfamiliar. Or to say the most, our ideas are extremely vague about much that goes on in the public schools today.

Makes Delivery On Ford Truck At Los Angeles

Milton Steinberger, local Ford agent, delivered the first of the new Model AA Ford commercial trucks this week to the S-S Baking Company of Los Angeles. F. G. Scalzo of Sierra Madre is president and manager of this company which is located at 1801-1817 Blake Street, near Riverside Drive. This was the fourteenth Ford truck they have bought from Mr. Steinberger, and more purchases are in prospect as the new Fords become available.

When Mr. Steinberger made personal delivery of the handsome truck to the bakery, he had the pleasure of inspecting the complete modern plant which the company built and occupied only a few months ago. With a force of 70 men and an output of more than $400,000 yearly, they had outgrown the old downtown plant. Mr. Steinberger found every evidence

Expect Large Attendance at Legion Meet

Lieut. Governor Buron Fitts To Make Address Here This Evening

District Meeting Expected to Draw Two Hundred and Fifty Men

Two hundred and fifty people are expected to attend the district meeting of the American Legion at the Woman's Club house in Sierra Madre this evening at 8 o'clock. Not only will there be Legionnaires from every post in the San Gabriel district, which extends as far east as the county line, but there will be many distinguished visitors.

Buron Fitts, past state commander of the American Legion, and now lieutenant governor of California will make an address, as will Phil Dodson, state commander. Earl Chinn of Pomona, district commander, will act as chairman.

A feature of the program will be entertainment by Frank Yaconelli, movie director and producer, and his company. Mr. Yaconelli is a former Orpheum artist and is said to be a "wiz" on the accordion and a splendid singer. The Pasadena drum and bugle corps will be present, and it is possible the Alhambra delegation will bring an entertainment feature.

The subject of the meeting is Civic Betterment, and local business men are given a cordial invitation to attend.

Is Your Pet Dog Proving Source Of Annoyance

Nuisances seem to develop in waves and epidemics. Barking dogs are an instance. After a long period with no complaints, several people have reported instances of dogs which make life miserable for the neighborhood, some by night and some by day. It is particularly distressing to sick people. Usually the cause is thoughtlessness on the part of the dog's owner, who would not intentionally cause annoyance to neighbors, especially to the sick. Dog owners would do well to check up and see if their pets are subject to complaint.

Dr. Larkin to Speak Before Cong. Church

Astronomer-Minister Will Deliver Series of Four Addresses

Rev. Ralph Larkin, minister of the Gospel by profession and an astronomer by avocation, will give a series of four lectures at the Congregational Church beginning Sunday, April 29, according to announcement made by Rev. A. O. Pritchard.

Rev. Larkin, who lives in Claremont, has been for years a student of astronomy, and has assisted his father who was in charge of the observatory at Mt. Lowe. The addresses will be on the subject of "The Wonders of the New Science."

Not only has the Congregational Church secured Rev. Larkin for the April program of events, but announces that Miss Elizabeth N. Adams of the Woman's Christian College at Constantinople will appear Sunday morning, April 22, before the congregation.

Miss Adams has been for a number of years in charge of the college at Constantinople and she is in possession of a knowledge of true conditions in Turkey.

of cleanliness and efficiency for the production of inviting 4-S bakery products.

In line with his policy of trading with Sierra Madre people whenever possible, Mr. Scalzo has employed the Brown Landscaping service for the beautification of the grounds about the plant, including several hundred feet of lawns.

To Plant Kentia Palms In Arboretum Tomorrow

Two hundred Kentia palms, recently donated to the Arboretum by the Bassett Washburn nursery, will be planted in Bailey Canyon Saturday afternoon, beginning at 2 o'clock, with a number of civic organizations assisting. Several other trees, donated by the organizations will also be planted, and water has been piped into the canyon by the city. The tree-planting will not stop Saturday, but will be carried on from time to time, according to W. R. Humphries, secretary of the Botanical Society.

Scout Executive Buys Home Here

Edward A. Davey, assistant Scout executive for the city of Los Angeles, Boy Scouts of America, has bought the former residence of M. Penn Phillips, located north of the new Phillips home on East Live Oak. He is associated with El B. DeGroot, Scout executive, who also owns a home on East Live Oak. Mr. Davey has brought his family to Sierra Madre to make their home.

Masters Of Oratory and Song Heard

Dr. VonKleinSmid and Leslie Gaze Hold Men's Club Spellbound

This troubled world will have to follow "America's Way Out," in the opinion of President R. B. von KleinSmid of the University of Southern California. And the way out, in the last analysis, is Christian Education. In the development of this theme Dr. VonKleinSmid held spellbound for an hour the largest gathering of Sierra Madre men on record. The occasion was the first meeting of the Men's Community Club in the social hall of the new Congregational Church.

Songs by Leslie Gaze rounded out one of the most inspiring and delightful meetings in the history of Sierra Madre. Seldom has any local crowd approached the degree of rapt attention and complete enthusiasm accorded both speaker and singer. Mr. Gaze has a rich, mellow voice and sings with perfect diction, fine understanding, and great dramatic power. His old English songs were an unusual treat, and his "Mandala" was a revelation. Mrs. Gaze's accompaniments were perfect, and Mr. Gaze's gracious identification of themselves as now a part of the community captivated their hearers.

The program followed the serving of a wonderful dinner by the Women's Society, Mrs. Walter Ropp's section being in charge. Mrs. W. S. Hull was in charge of the dining room and decorations, and the setting brought exclamations of delight from all.

Speaking rapidly for a great part of his discourse, Dr. VonKleinSmid said that so much that was worth while and in such entertaining and thought-provoking manner that it is just as difficult to convey any adequate feeling of his charm and power as it is to epitomize his remarks. He saw in the tremendous expenditures for education on every hand in America the coming leadership of the world. The figures he quoted make one's head swim. The $10,000,000 his own university is seeking is a mere bagatelle compared to what others have received recently. In public schools, high schools and universities it is the same.

But all this money will be wasted, said Dr. VonKleinSmid, without the heaven of Christian education. Science must seek life rather than death and destruction, authors must be developed to produce inspiration rather than salaciousness.

George B. Morgridge, president of the club, presided. Dr. A. O. Pritchard, pastor of the church, told briefly of the work of the church and the building project. Dr. Gilbert S. Bovard, a son of Southern California, introduced the speaker of the evening and told the audience of the great many honors which had been conferred upon him for educational and diplomatic achievement.

Flower Show Proves To Be Huge Success

Fine Dinner and Evening of Speaking Closes Local Garden Event

Amateur Gardeners Receive Expert Advice on Plant Raising

The feast of good things which marked the close of Garden Day at the Woman's Club House on Wednesday made it an occasion long to be remembered. It was a fitting climax to the beautiful and informative exhibition which had been in progress during the day, and should prove a powerful incentive to the beautification of homes, streets and parks in Sierra Madre.

Never was a public dinner given a more beautiful setting than that of the flower-decked auditorium with its beautifully decorated tables. The delicious baked-ham menu, with all its inviting items cooked and combined with rare skill, was a material feast which was appropriately followed by the subsequent feast of good fellowship and interchange of helpful ideas. Mrs. W. J. Lawless had full charge of the preparation and service of the dinner.

Before and during the dinner the company was entertained by the talented Verdugo Troupe of Spanish musicians and dancers. Their costumes, lilting music and graceful dancing added just the right touch to the occasion. The troupe were secured thru the good offices of Mrs. Woehler, Sr.

As president of the Woman's Club, Mrs. Fletcher H. White placed the program in the hands of Mrs. A. R. Hinton, chairman of the garden section of the club, under whose direction the section has done much worth while work. Mrs. Hinton in turn called upon F. D. R. Moote to take charge as toastmaster and to speak on the subject of dahlia culture.

Having served for several years as secretary of the Southern California Dahlia Growers Association and devoted a great deal of time and thought to dahlia growing, Mr. Moote was able to give in a brief time a great fund of useful information on the subject. Holding specimen roots before his hearers, Mr. Moote deftly showed with a coning saw how to divide the roots, leaving an eye on each piece, how to place the root in the soil, how to stake, trim and train the growing plant. A lively interchange of questions and discussion showed the great interest prevailing.

Mr. Moote then called on a number of citizens for brief talks.

Novel Dinner To be Given By the P.T.A.

Funds Will be Devoted to Worthy Charity Work of Association

Important announcement made Wednesday at the Parent-Teacher Association meeting was that concerning the Plunkett, or Manufacturer's dinner, to be served under the auspices of the P.T.A. on May 16 at 6:30. The dinner is being promoted to raise badly-needed funds for the association, as the amount in the treasury has been depleted during the past year because of various donations. The largest of these has been the re-imbursement of the school board for lunches and milk served to under-nourished children who were unable to pay for the food.

Preparations are being made to take care of a large number of people, and all guests will be served at one sitting, it was announced by the committee in charge. No service will be made without tickets, which will soon be on sale.

The organization voted to pay $50 toward the salary of a nurse for the summer health school, and the money will be raised as soon as possible.

Mrs. R. R. Moreland, president, selected a nominating committee composed of Mrs. Arthur Evans, Mrs. Preston Schwartz and Miss Helen Wones, which is to make a report for the election meeting in May.

Local Author Writes Book For Children

Mrs. Elizabeth Scantlebury
Announces Publication
of Reader

"Little World Children," a geographical reader for youngsters in the second and third grades at school is just off the press, and will fill a long expressed desire of educators for accurate information presented in such a manner as to interest the small tots of the lower grades. The author is a Sierra Madre woman, Mrs. Elizabeth Scantlebury, 121 South Mountain Trail.

The book, which tells of children in eight countries, was sent in manuscript form to a Glendale school, where it was read by the pupils in the second and third grades. When it was returned, Mrs. Scantlebury received an accompanying note, assuring her that it had caught the fancy of the children as no other reader had done, and that it was thoroughly approved by the teachers.

Mrs. Scantlebury has made an exhaustive study of the customs and conditions surrounding children all over the world, and in this connection has acquired a splendid background of the history and geography of the various countries. She has two other educational volumes, "Homes of World Babies in Silhouette," and "World Babies."

In addition to these readers, Mrs. Scantlebury has also written a number of enchanting poems, many of them jingles for wee children. She is now preparing a book of poems similar to the Mother Goose Rhymes, for the press, and has a number of charming illustrations which will be used in the book.

Perhaps the greatest achievement of Mrs. Scantlebury, and the one which has made her most widely known, is the dressing of numerous "geographical" dolls, which are used all over the world as an aid to teachers. Several years ago, while living in Springfield, Mass., Mrs. Scantlebury came to the conclusion that small minds would take a greater interest in living conditions in other countries if they were made to realize that children similar to themselves lived therein. As a result, she made a study of costumes and coloring, and dressed a set of dolls, one for each country in the world.

The dolls are from 12 to 14 inches in height, with hair, coloring, contours and costumes correct in every detail. They were hailed with such delight by the children of Springfield, where the set was presented to the public library, that other towns and countries demanded them, and there are now numerous sets scattered over the world.

In her home on South Mountain Trail, Mrs. Scantlebury has a group of period dolls, dressed in the quaint and lovely costumes of the past ages, the small frocks of expensive silk, embroidered and decorated with exquisite lace as the fashion of that day might decree. Coiffure, footwear and wraps are also worked out correctly by Mrs. Scantlebury, who declares that it has taken her years to obtain the information necessary to dress the dolls in the authentic costume of their respective periods.

In her latest book she has taken characters from real life, and her "Tales of World Babies" are woven around the characters of her small grandchildren. The two dolls in the book have been named for Nancy and Margaret Ann Steinberger. Interesting scraps of information concerning children of Arabia, Japan, China, Switzerland, Alaska, Holland, the North American Indian and the Colonial tots is found in the reader. Illustrations, which are sure to catch the fancy of the pupils, have been made by Hildegard Woodward of the art department of the publishers, Ginn and Company.

Edison Company To Make Refunds

"Approximately $11,600 in line extension deposits will be refunded to consumers of the Southern California Edison Company in this vicinity, in accordance with the plan recently worked out by a round table conference in which the railroad commission, the Edison company and the law and utilities department of the California farm bureau association participated," said Fred Schwartz, district manager for the Edison Company in this territory, to a News representative.

"This is a voluntary refund of moneys advanced to secure line extensions under previous rules for which a more liberal new rule has been substituted," said Mr. Schwartz, who also stated that a great deal of work will be necessary to check up the data on all of these accounts, but that this would be done as soon as possible and vouchers prepared and mailed as rapidly as the accounting is accomplished.

YOUTH NEARLY TAKES TRIP TO DAVY JONES LOCKER AT DAM SITE

On Monday night when a search of the canyon failed to locate Kendall Heasley, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. James Heasley, it was found later, when the boy returned home with his clothing completely soaked, that he had been playing with nine other boys at the dam and had fallen from a raft into the "stilling pool." But for the timely aid of Richard Vanderpool, who pulled him to safety, he might have had difficulty in getting out as the pool is about eight feet deep and extremely dangerous. Next day Kendall solemnly announced to his parents that had it not been for the Testament in his pocket he would have drowned.

Many parents do not know of this danger and should be warned to keep their children away. A swimming pool under proper supervision would eliminate such hazardous pastime and many parents hope that some such provision can be made in Sierra Madre at an early date.

Fruit Growers Are Winners High Award

A certificate of merit for the most conspicuous work in research and advertising fields during 1926 has been conferred upon the California Fruit Growers Exchange, according to announcement from The American Food Journal and Home Economist, who issue the award.

The jury of award was unanimous in their opinion that material submitted by various advertisers Sunkist's campaign on oranges and lemons ranked first. The certificate reads, "An award offered to encourage research, popular education, constructive advertising and scientific management in the food industry. For work deemed most comprehensive for excellence of its planning and execution among the campaigns for 1926 for products coming under the attention of the jury of award."

Selection for the award was made on the following points: First, the uncovering of facts regarding the chemical composition of products. Helping the commercial division of the food field to appreciate and profit by the work of scientists in the laboratory.

Second, accomplishments which tend to improve national dietary habits. These include the demonstration of the value of the mixed diet, the establishment of scientifically trained educators as members of the staff, and helping to combat the influence of food fads through distribution of sound and carefully checked publicity material or otherwise.

Third, a section which dealt with constructive advertising and based the report on increased production, lowered overhead and the development of new markets as well as the strengthening of old ones.

Past Masters to Put On Degree For the Lodge

Members of the Masonic lodge are looking forward to Tuesday, May 8, as a red letter night. For the first time in a number of years the lodge will hold a regular Past Master's night. The program calls for dinner at 6:30 (prepared by Billie Murphy). The degree of Master Mason will be conferred by the past masters at the lodge session following.

It is the hope of C. L. Twycross, master of the lodge, that every living past master will be present to take part. J. A. Patterson, who was master in 1913, has already written that he will be on hand. Mr. Patterson is now a resident of Beverly Hills, secretary of the Professional Golfers' Association, and manager of the municipal golf links at Griffith Park.

Announcement is also made that the Master Mason degree will be conferred at the meeting of the lodge next Tuesday night. A cordial invitation is extended to all visiting Masons to attend.

Local Golfers to South Chino Hills

Several Sierra Madre golfers have taken memberships in Los Serranos Country Club near Chino. The list now includes J. N. Hawks, J. F. Sadler, Fred Hooker Jones, Ralph Seabee and Ray A. Grant. They have been setting aside Thursday afternoons for play on the splendid course and all reports indicate a tremendous lot of sport at the great conversational game. Other local golfers who have been included in the Thursday afternoon parties are Frank A. Spencer, G. A. Clarke, Dr. C. L. T. Herbert and Luckey D. Ball.

Interesting News Notes from Sierra Madre Canyon

City Trustees Isaacs, Hall, Belohiavek, Myers and Thayer, Engineers Gieruch and Buck and street and water Supt. Carpenter were canyon visitors on Monday.
They were met by J. K. Thompson, E. A. Anderson and J. P.
Morris, committee from the canyon improvement association, who took them on a tour of the canyon, presenting several matters of importance for their consideration.
The two major propositions receiving most attention were the swimming pool and the automobile bridge on upper Brooks
Lane for which the County Flood Control commission donated materials. The committee from the association express themselves as being pleased with the attitude taken by the trustees and city officials toward the canyon. They feel that a better understanding has been reached and that much good will be accomplished as a result.

J. R. Thompson and A. L. Phelps completed the painting of the walk and foot bridge on Brookside Lane this week. All labor and materials for this bridge and board walk, which would have cost the city of Sierra Madre approximately $200, was donated by canyon residents free of all expense to the city. The bridge, which has been out since the flood of April, 1926, is a much needed improvement and the efforts of Mr. Thompson and Mr. Phelps in helping to make the new one a possibility are appreciated.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon S. Griswold returned on Saturday from a two week's vacation during which time they drove to Death Valley, visiting Bungalow City, Mosaic Canyon, Furnace Creek and Dante's View, where they met a modern cateran consisting of seven automobiles of Sierra Club members, thirty automobiles and a tow car with 160 pupils and teachers from Glendale high school and 24 Boy Scouts in charge of six men, with a specially-built truck and moving picture camera, from Verdugo Woodlands. When it was learned that Mrs. Griswold was interested in birds and a member of the Los Angeles Audubon Society she was induced to pose for the motion-picture camera.

Next the Griswolds journeyed to Rhyolite, Nevada, Ghost City, Ton-opah, Virginia City, where they encountered a snow storm, Bishop, Coso Hot Springs Kern River Canyon to Bakersfield, on to Santa Rosa, the Petrified Forest, and Calistoga Geyser, Sonoma Mission,
arriving in San Francisco on Fleet
Day. Returning by way of Palo Alto they visited Stanford Chapel,
the mystery house at Santa Clara, Lick Observatory, antique shops at Carmel, San Juan Mission, The Pinnacles (national monument),
San Antonio Mission at Jolon, Moro Bay and the devastated area in the Santa Clara Valley, spending the last two wonderful days in Sierra Madre Canyon at their cottage, "Cuddle Inn," before returning to their home in Hollywood.

Mrs. Rush A. Bronson and Mrs.
Kiddler were guests of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Gamble on Tuesday at the Stouffer cottage, "Cozy Nest." Mr. and Mrs. Gamble will be canyon residents for the entire summer.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Corum have as their guest for a week, Mrs.
Corum's cousin, Mrs. George Cooper from Detroit, Mich. On Tuesday Mrs. Corum entertained
Mrs. Cooper and Mrs. James Heasley with a trip to Fern Lodge on horse-back. The greater part of the day was spent at Sturtevant Falls, where a picnic lunch was spread for the guests. The party returned home in the evening.

Roy E. Calvin and family of Long Beach were guests of Miss Minerva Boatright at Cadmus
Camp over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Price and daughter Helen entertained a group of their friends from Long Beach at Dolly's folly from Friday until Sunday.

Mrs. Nettie J. Forrest and Mrs.
Ella A. Cadmus entertained the following guests on Saturday and Sunday: Mrs. Fred Ashby of Delta, Utah; Mr. and Mrs. Claude
Smith and children of Buena Park;

Mrs. Laura E. Beyl, Mr. and Mrs.
Charles S. Ashby of Long Beach and Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Collins and son Marshall of Huntington Park.

Mrs. Hattie Thomas, a former Lexington, Neb., friend, was a guest of Mrs. Nettie J. Forrest on Tuesday.

Mrs. O. R. Cline, Mrs. Harold
Dunn and son Stanley occupied the Cline cottage on Woodland Drive over the week-end.

Miss Sadie Mateer of Los Angeles was a guest of Miss Florence Youser at Cadmus Villa on Sunday.

Mrs. E. A. Anderson spent Monday and Tuesday in Long Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon B. Wolfe drove to Los Angeles on Tuesday night to see Mr. Wolfe's sister, Miss Kaye Rogers, in "Excess Baggage," at the Figueroa Playhouse. After the performance,
Mr. and Mrs. Rogers went back stage to meet Miss Rogers and other members of the cast.

Mrs. Wm. Tell Burkhardt and Mrs. Lulu Belle Taylor, former residents, were Canyon visitors on Wednesday. Friends of Mrs. Taylor learned with regret of the death of her father, T. M. Clark, last week.

Browning Circle

The Browning Reading Circle of Sierra Madre met last Sunday afternoon at the home of Miss Ella Shepard Bush. Mrs. Tacy G.
Dunning read portions of Browning's poem, "Easter Day," which give a vivid picture of the Judgment Day as conceived by the poet, according to the theology of his age. The reading called forth a discussion of the contrast between the old conception of the last day and the new, modern idea of a scientific age.

Miss Mary Potter then read
"The Epistle of Karshish," with a lucid interpretation of the terms and thought of the poem. The letter of the Arab physician who saw Lazarus after he had been raised from the dead and recognized the change his experience had made in him brought out comments on the new play, "Lazarus Laughed," which some of those present had seen.

Tea was served by the hostesses, Miss Bush and Mrs. Daniel Taylor, assisted by Mrs. A. F.
Snell. The meeting was said to be the most interesting held by the Circle.

Fire Flames

By One of the Boys

Last week's meeting wasn't bad
—the thirteenth held no terror;
we had our regular practice, and Lee Hibbs his regular error. Assistant Chief George Norris divided 'em, and made two teams, to arouse a little rivalry and speed
'em up, it seems. The first bunch seemed to have cool heads and did the job up fine; it took 'em just one minute to get water thru the line. But woe! oh, woe! and hail to Peace! The next was not so good. Lee Hibbs and Louie Karger bragged, they said they understood. When their turn came, the truck pulled up and the hose put 'round the plug, then Louie broke connections while he twisted up his mug. So far, so good; then Lee came 'long and Louie yelled out "Water!" They both began to argue then, at a time they hadn't oughter. The sum and substance of it was that Lee's crew lost the race; they made all kinds of alibis—their time a sad disgrace.
The practice was a good one just the same, we must admit;
we learn from practices like this that everything must fit. These things are not so jocular as to some folks they appear; the drills are most essential, we should have more, I fear. We learn each night new ways and means to fight a conflagration, so when we really get a call, we're not in consternation.

Our meeting was as usual with just a mere exception—our members are worth five bucks now, of which they had no conception.
Don Hosford served the bunch
last week, the two Bob's added more to celebrate the babies that the stork left at the door.

The boys have all agreed to help to make a baseball ground down on the city property, so the kids can have their rounds.

Last Monday night the two new men elected to the board, were given their instructions as to what they could afford. Al Myers made a lovely speech (it was so very short), if he never makes them longer we'll consider him a sport.
We hope he is successful "and all that sort of thing," the same to Mr. Thayer, but we hope they never sing. Our own big chief was supposed to speak, but he uttered not a sound; in fact he was so quiet no one knew he was around.

On Tuesday night some of the boys went out to play some cards.
The people at St. Rita's Church had prizes by the yards. There were hams upon the platform,
there was bacon on the stage;
there were fancy work and pillow tops, that made the ladies "lose their age." But of all these hundred prizes not one fireman took one home, which shows that pretty ladies make a fireman lose his
"dome."

Our next big steppin' out act

was to hear von KleinSmid speak.
Mr. Gaze gave us some singing that was far from being weak.
The dinner was a treat alright—a fireman knows his "eats," and what those women served us made us linger in our seats.

You should have seen the fireboys last Sunday, all dressed up, it was to make a picture—they had their pants pressed up. Yes, we've had our picture taken, and we broke the camera glass; you may see them when they're finished, just drop in as you pass.

There's been a lot of happenings, each fellow gets his "dues," if you should learn more 'bout it, read the Sierra Madre News.

The writer of this column sometimes gets the "writer's gout," and because the little finger aches, we'll declare the

THOROUGH housecleaning by the legal profession is absolutely necessary before the general public can be expected to regain its rapidly waning respect for law. This opinion, expressed by the News in the past, is expressed much more strongly by Judge Turney of the municipal courts of Los Angeles. He declares the shysters must be kicked out of the profession.

Even more authoritative is the declaration of Judge Marcus Kavanaugh in his book entitled, "The Criminal and His Allies." This learned jurist declares crime waves will continue to grow and public respect for law and lawyers will continue to decrease unless radical reforms are effected.

In his review of Judge Kavanaugh's book, Harold D. Carew of the Star-News sums up the arraignment in part: "Small wonder that the average citizen has developed a genuine contempt for our American system of administering justice. . . . The average citizen is not fooled by the hocus pocus of the law, but he hasn't the faintest idea how it can be changed and the lawyers who profit from crime wouldn't let him change it anyway. In theory, all lawyers are 'officers of the court' but that doesn't alter the fact that some of them are just plain shysters and pettyfogging crooks, no whit better than most of the clients they defend. Their business is not to uphold the majesty of the law but to find some loophole to free a culprit who ought to be in jail. These lawyers resort to all sorts of shady tricks and devices to beat the law, and are still accounted eminent citizens and upright men. Yet, if they were to resort to the same tricky practices in their relations with the business and social world, they would be put down as common scoundrels."

Here in California the State Bar is now organized as a self-governing body of professional men. How can they escape responsibility for the things charged by these jurists, and for the housecleaning which seems to be so necessary?

THE ANNUAL BATTLE

NATIONAL forest week comes at an opportune time to remind us of the duty of facing the mountain fire problem before the lateness of the season makes it acute. The weather of the past two months has been conducive to a heavy grass and weed growth. Unless there should be unexpected late rains, the fire season will be upon us earlier than usual and with a tremendous quantity of fuel ready to blaze up.

Then it is time to recall that in all the federal forest areas more than 72 per cent of the fires are known to have been caused by man, and 12 per cent by lightning. Causes of 15 per cent are unknown. Here in Southern California where lightning fires are very few, the fires due to human carelessness are probably much more numerous.

Just now the fields are green, with the first shading toward yellow. Within a few weeks they will turn from yellow to brown. Then the fire menace will extend from every vacant lot and field right up to the mountains, with their brush and forest cover. In Sierra Madre the duty of forest fire prevention begins at home, right in our own back yards.

Sierra Madre has an enviable record, partly due to mere chance that the worst danger spots have never become ignited, and partly to the ability of the local fighters to jump quick and hard whenever fire starts. It is a certainty the fire fighters will be organized and able to do their part. Now the problem is to carry out the fire prevention campaign so the fire fighters will have nothing to do, so far as mountain fires are concerned.

A GET-TOGETHER TIME

AGITATION for a weekly half-holiday for Sierra Madre stores is gaining some headway. Last year it was discussed somewhat but the summer season passed without action. Now the suggestion is made that all stores which can do so, close at 1 o'clock on Wednesdays or Thursdays. Then provide some form of community entertainment for afternoon or evening or both. The open air programs which were started toward the close of last summer would work splendidly under such circumstances. Properly handled, the weekly holiday could be made attractive enough to keep people at home in Sierra Madre, rather than merely offering an opportunity to run away and spend their money elsewhere.

C'MON IN!

SWIMMING pools were opened for the season at Brookside Park, Pasadena, last Saturday. They will be a mecca for young people from all over the west end of San Gabriel Valley until late in the fall. During the summer months, hundreds of Sierra Madre boys and girls will find their way to Brookside Park because of the pools. Families and groups of families will go there to picnic, chiefly because of the pool attractions. Incidentally a good many hundred dollars of Sierra Madre money will be taken out of Sierra Madre for pool fees and picnic expenditures, money that might largely be kept at home. For Sierra Madre to go longer without an adequate public swimming pool is expensive. In fact it is not good sense, viewed from any angle.

WHOLESOME INTEREST

IT was an encouraging sign of public interest in city affairs to have so many people attend the organization meeting of the new city council Monday night. The board members are able to bring to the service of the city varied individual talents and an aggregate of ability that ought to be of tremendous value. The board is well organized for effective work, and there is every evidence that peace and harmony will reign in the administration of affairs. There is so much to be done that the city cannot afford to have energy dissipated in useless contention and factional strife.

THE EDITORIAL WASTEBASKET

(Temple Times)

THIS is the season when the editor has to install another waste paper basket. Along with the usual grist of thinly veiled advertising sent out by the hired press agents of colleges, picture studios and other profit-making institutions, comes now the mushy propaganda of the office seeker. The readers of the average newspaper do not know how much they owe the editor for what he leaves out of their paper. What goes in may be poor enough, but the larger grist that goes into the waste basket, oh, boy!

PAVING COMPETITION KEEN

(Puente Journal)

PUBLIC work contractors are showing an evidence of a desire to get onto good sized paving jobs, as is evidenced by the recent letting of the contract for paving Foothill Boulevard at Azusa. The engineer's estimates of the work called for an expenditure of $246,241.97. The low bid was $209,495.05. Of the sixteen bids submitted, not one was as large as the engineer's estimate.

Engineers have the habit of over-estimating a job, which, in a way, is good procedure, for when the property owners are able to get the work done for less than the amount of the estimate they feel they are saving money. In the Azusa case the cost was almost eighteen per cent less than the estimate.

Observations

(By G. B. M.)

REGULAR PEOPLE—

My idea of a good citizen is the man who is always willing to do his part in the community without any evidence of worry as to how and whether or not he is going to "get his" in return.

For instance, there's Billy Murphy. Most of the men and many of the women of Sierra Madre have had an opportunity to enjoy the wonderful dinners he has prepared for various organizations. Month after month he has served them for the Masonic Lodge, and later for the Eastern Star. This week he volunteers his assistance for the Community Club dinner in the Congregational Church. It is expert professional service freely given.

What I am wondering is this: How many of the people who have enjoyed the pleasure and benefit resulting from the work of Mr. and Mrs. Murphy ever visited Hoegge's Camp which they operate up there in the mountains? When planning an outing, why not try a little reciprocity? The samples provided down here at these public dinners ought to be sufficient guaranty of the fare up there at that mountain beauty spot.

Mr. and Mrs. Murphy undoubtedly draw such a large percentage of their business from Los Angeles and other more distant points that they are independent of local business for support. However, I have an idea the evidence of appreciation would be sweeter reward than the monetary value.

The rest of these observations were written for last week's paper and got crowded out along with other copy. But they are just as true now as they were then.

AFTER THE SMOKE HAD CLEARED AWAY—

"Please tell the people of Sierra Madre I am mighty grateful for their friendship, even if I did not get elected to office," said Fletcher H. White the day after the election. "I have no tears to shed, for I tried to make a clean campaign and avoid giving reason for losing any of the friends I had before. I really ought to have known better than to run for office again—ought to have taken the advice of my three friends—Jeffries, Willard and Dempsey—when they said, 'It can't be done; they don't come back!'"

NEWSPAPER POWER—

"I want to express my appreciation for the very fair attitude of the News during the city campaign," said W. F. Thayer, Jr., who was high man among the candidates for city trustee. "I realize the value of publicity and the power of the newspaper to make or break any man. It is especially important to a community to have a newspaper that is dependable in whatever it prints."

FROM JEST TO EARNST—

Al Myers, whose candidacy for trustee had its inception in a joke, is viewing the responsibilities of the job with a degree of real seriousness. Mr. Myers pursued a campaign policy which some experienced politicians could not understand. There was never a reference to his service as a war veteran, nor to his many years of experience in public utility work (in telephone circles he is recognized as a topnotch engineer). At any rate there wasn't any comeback to the slogan of his campaign advertising which said he was "just bein' neighborly." Mr. Myers attributes no small degree of his success to his use of printer's ink because he declares he has not formed a wide enough acquaintance in Sierra Madre to account for the vote he received. He is bringing an inquiring mind into the city service that seems likely to develop some worth-while ideas.

ELECTS TO RETURN—

They were not talking about him when they said, "They don't come back," says Harry Paden. Elections have nothing to do with this. It's the climate.

Mr. Paden and his family are coming back to Sierra Madre after spending the winter in Pennsylvania for which they thought they were homesick last fall. Mr. Paden writes:

"If I cannot be there to enjoy your oranges and flowers, you might send me the News for a year, or at least until I come back. We expect to be in Sierra Madre this fall as we are all fed up on snow."

The many friends of the Paden family will be delighted to welcome them again. Their present address is Fairview, Erie County, Pennsylvania.

The city trustees met for reorganization, all having been re-elected to office. C. W. Jones was again chosen chairman. City Clerk and Auditor J. A. Madden presented a financial statement of all transactions of the preceding year, and the exact status of fifty affairs with the beginning of the new administration. ### Tennyson Tea Held Monday Evening

One of the interesting groups of this community, the Tennyson Circle, composed of former residents of the British Empire, held an enjoyable tea at the parish house of the Church of the Ascension Monday evening. Miss S. Jones and Mrs. Maybelle Hawkins acted as hostesses to the twenty-five members and guests present.

The following officers were elected at the business meeting which followed tea: Mrs. Alice Sedgman, president; Mrs. L. Jones, vice president; Stacy Jones, secretary, and J. Jones, treasurer.

During the program Miss Jessie Dunning gave a reading from the "School for Scandal," with an Irish encore, and Miss Wallace, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. R. M. Finlayson, sang two Scotch songs. A clever Irish impersonation, "The Man Who Couldn't Get Warm," sung by George Burke, proved to be a jolly addition to the program. The evening ended with old fashioned dances and a general social time.

The fourth meeting of the circle will be held May 14 at the parish house at 7:30 in the evening. Friends of the members are invited to attend the social meetings.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sehr and Miss Amelia Puck of La Habra, were Sunday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Heber.

Accomplished Reader to Appear in Long Beach

Mrs. Lovetta Hicks Pratt, whose readings have delighted audiences in Sierra Madre many times, has been requested to appear before the Music Study Club of Long Beach on the evening of April 23rd. She will present a group of readings at the affair, which is one of the big events of the club year.

Hawks, was presented during the afternoon.

At the close of the program the hostesses served a delicious luncheon. Guests of the club for the occasion were Mrs. Elizabeth Seantlebury and Mrs. Nestor A. Young, Jr. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. F. H. Hartman on Thursday afternoon, April 26, with Mrs. W. S. Hull as co-hostess.

Harold F. Pote of St. Paul, Minn., visited his sister, Mrs. Joe R. Eastwood and family Monday. Pote, who has been spending the winter in California.

At the opening meeting conditions in Mexico, and work with the Mexican people, were discussed by the speakers. Dr. George Kengott told of work on this side of the Rio Grande, while Dr. John Howland talked of conditions south of the river.

The business meeting was held Wednesday morning, and Mrs. E. E. Bacon, Mrs. E. D. Burbank and Mrs. Nestor A. Young, Jr., were among those present. At that time they will make toys to be used in the nursery at the church and also in the club. A social hour, and the serving of tea will close the meeting.

Mrs. V. S. Vaupel of the Wistaria Beauty Shoppe has secured the services of Mrs. Jackson, an experienced operator, who will give patrons complete satisfaction. Mrs. Jackson is especially expert at marcel and finger waves, but is an all-round operator as well.

Miss Nora Foley of Hermosa Beach visited this week with Miss Johanna Saenger, 126 East Grand View, and other Sierra Madre friends.

George Norris, Lyle Kellogg, Leonard Borman and Bert Haug enjoyed a motor trip recently through the desert. Leaving home Saturday night they drove across the Mojave desert to Death Valley and then back by way of Randsburg, the Antelope Valley and Saugus. They reached home late Sunday night.

LEARNING TO EAT

No. 3—The "No" to Food
The negative attitude of a child toward every meal is not necessarily that of an "unruly" child, but rather the result of misdirected management. To induce a child to eat when such an attitude has been formed means a radical change of approach. Coaxing or forcing will not succeed. Overcome opposition in a child by giving him no opportunity to oppose.

"Breaking the child's will" policy is only an acknowledgement of not understanding how to direct his will. Study the child and see what his habits and attitude are that aid or prohibit good eating. Count how many times a day "no" and "don't" are said. These words many times a day build up a resistance in a child to all acts.

"What CAN a baby do?" was a sharp reproof to an over-reproving mother from her three-year-old. Slapping baby's hands is usually the beginning of a series of acts of repression which lead to a bawling child a few years later. Reduce commands to a minimum, but be as determined in carrying out the few that are given as wise in giving them.

Plain suitable food to be prepared for the child, and sweets, except in fruits, omitted; the latter satiate the appetite quickly. At meal time make no comments on the food he should eat. Let him realize that no one is forcing him to eat anything. Remove the food after thirty minutes whether it is eaten or not. Be firm, yet kind in refusing all food between meals. Missing a few calories and vitamins is not as vital as establishing a normal attitude toward a habit of living.

Let the child help in preparing his food. His own mixing bowl, spoons and silver give food a new interest for him. Helping to serve offers an opportunity for activity that is "don'ted" when the family eats.

See that the family have hands off the negative child. Too many bosses are a great handicap to the training of a young child. He usually resists them all to find an open road for himself. A child is best managed into eating when he is least conscious of a wise direction in all his activities.

Passing the Buck
Clubman: "I've struck a perfectly priceless idea. I've arranged to give a man $10,000 on condition that he relieves me of all my worries."

Entire Cast for Ramona Pageant Now Assembled

With the arrival in Hemet of Doris Schukow, who will play the title role of the Ramona Pageant for the fifth season, the entire cast for the spectacular outdoor drama of early California romance and history is on the ground. Miss Schukow has made a nation-wide reputation for her portrayal of the heroine of Helen Hunt Jackson's immortal novel of early days in California. The star will be supported this year by Victor Jory, the Alessandro of the play for three years, and a cast of 180 experienced players. More than 100 of the players have been in the cast each of the six years since the inception of the play.

The annual Ramona Pageant is given in the Ramona Bowl, a natural flower banked amphitheatre south of Hemet in the shadow of Mt. San Jacinto. The people of Hemet and San Jacinto, who operate the play as a non-profit, community enterprise, have expended more than $50,000 in the building of the great amphitheatre which is devoted exclusively to the six performances of the Ramona Pageant each year.

Junior High To Add 10th Grade Pupils

Pasadena School Decides to Adopt New Method of Grouping

By adding the tenth grade to the junior high school and dropping it from the present high school curriculum, the Pasadena board of education has decided to pioneer in the 6-4-4 grouping of public school grades. This means that Sierra Madre, being a part of the Pasadena high school district, will provide its pupils with six years of elementary school work, four years in junior high school and four years in the combined senior high school and junior college.

No change is made in the elementary grading. The changes are in the grouping of higher grades which now comprise three years in junior high school, three years in senior high school and two years in junior college.

This action is in line with latest developments in secondary education which indicate in the next few years the leading colleges and universities of California and the United States will drop the first two years of college work. Stanford University has already unofficially approved the 6-4-4 plan of secondary education and indicated that the freshman and sophomore years will be dropped eventually.

The action provides that effective September 17, 1928, the date set for opening of school, students now enrolled in the ninth grade in the junior high schools shall be re-registered in these same schools, the curriculum of offerings to be made in connection with the junior high schools, and that grades seven to ten, inclusive, shall constitute thereafter the junior high school organization in Pasadena.

Junior high school graduation exercises this spring shall be carried out as planned, and, for the present at least, students completing the twelfth grade of high school shall be graduated. John Muir Technical high school will be continued as a senior high school, to include grades seven to twelve, inclusive. Students now enrolled in the tenth grade at Muir shall re-register next fall for their eleventh grade work, unless transferred.

All courses in both the Muir school and Pasadena high school shall be set up and administered so that there shall be possible free transfer of students without loss of time or necessity for the re-arrangement of courses.

Grades eleven to fourteen, inclusive, at Pasadena high school will be organized and administered as a four-year intergraded unit, provided, however, that diplomas or certificates of graduation shall continue to be issued at the end of the twelfth grade so that students who desire may obtain admission to institutions of higher learning. All duplication of courses, activities, offices, equipment, personnel, etc., will be eliminated.

Commenting on the wisdom of adopting the 6-4-4 plan, Judge Raymond G. Thompson, president of the board, stated that loss of time and money resulted from duplication of courses, equipment and teaching positions under the present system. The necessary buildings, equipment, facilities and faculty are available for handling the tenth grade pupils, he said.

"Taking of this necessary step in adopting the 6-4-4 plan," said Judge Thompson, "was decided on after careful study on the part of the local administrative officers and extended counsel with state and national authorities in the field of secondary education. We are all convinced that the best interests of efficiency, economy and organization would be better served should Pasadena now proceed with the next step toward effecting the 6-4-4 plan."

Flower Show Proves To Be Huge Success

E. D. Topping, retiring mayor, and W. F. Thayer, new mayor, spoke briefly as learners in the art of gardening. Judge Thayer said he welcomed the opportunity to invite the public to make known their desires to the city council, always bearing in mind also their own limitations as to taxation.

Miss Thomasella Graham and Dr. L. L. Krebs were called upon as local pioneers in the art of gardening. Both emphasized the need for a wise policy in street tree planting, and adoption of set-back lines. Miss Graham also begged for protection against mutilation of street trees, and urged a tightening up of zone restrictions for the protection of home owners.

Miss Jessie Ward, who has contributed much to garden development in Sierra Madre, suggested the planting of more sub-tropical plants of a type which can be grown well here and are impossible in many other localities. She mentioned particularly the red hibiscus, red flowering eucalyptus, jacaranda, lantanas and red bougainvilleas.

E. D. Burbank on behalf of the Kiwanis Club assured the garden enthusiasts that the organization could be depended upon for sympathy and support in any well considered program for community advancement. He further suggested that the city might put unemployed men to work on the vacant lots, and tax the cost against the property owners who leave their land in unsightly condition while the improvements made by other people increase its value.

W. R. Humphries said the Sierra Madre Arboretum was such a big idea that it would of necessity mean slow growth, but the growth is certain. He compared the barren Sierra Madre of thirty-five years ago with the tree growth which now hides most of the homes when viewed from a distance. He epitomized a wise community policy, "clean up, paint up, buck up and plant up." A novel suggestion was the use of buttonhole flowers by members of all service clubs on meeting days, and at all churches in Southern California.

R. S. Jensen, chairman of the school board, and Miss Elizabeth Steinberger, principal, spoke for the garden where the real community flowers, the children, are trained.

Two interesting addresses closed the evening. Mrs. Helen King gave a rapid review of garden history from Eden to the present activity in woman's club section work. Thru it all the important part played by women was shown. Mr. Chenoweth, vice president of the California Nurserymen's Association, made many valuable suggestions in a discussion of rock gardens. Hardy alpine, representing the opposite end of the scale from tropical plants, thrive here equally well, and add greatly to the novelty of the garden in California. The possibility of developing these gardens in minia-
